

Law Management Section Engagement Programme 2018 -19

Foreword

Welcome to the Law Society's Law Management Section 2018/19 engagement programme.

I am delighted to present another exciting and activity packed programme designed to deliver relevant and premium quality content for law practice managers. The Law Management Section committee works closely with the Law Society, investing our collective experience and expertise as CEOs, managing directors, practice managers and business consultants in legal practice sector, to shape and drive the programme. Our aim? To help managers prepare for the inevitable new opportunities and risks which the legal profession will face very soon.

The programme is refreshed throughout the year, so make sure you visit regularly and download the latest version.

The committee is keen to engage with the wider law management community of solicitors, practice managers, finance, HR and IT managers and suppliers of financial or management services to legal practices - and to hear from you, our members, to assist us in developing your Section. To give us your thoughts or just to connect, please get in touch at communities@lawsociety.org.uk.

Ann Harrison, Chair
Chair of the Law Management Committee

About the Law Society

The Law Society exists to represent, promote and support all solicitors, so they in turn can help their clients.

We also work to ensure that no-one is above the law and to protect everyone's right to have access to justice. We promote England and Wales as the jurisdiction of choice and the vital role legal services play in our economy. We work internationally to open up markets to our members and to defend human rights while supporting our members with opportunities in the domestic market.

The Law Society helps members by:

- representing solicitors by speaking out for justice and on legal issues
- promoting solicitors through publicising the value of using a solicitor at home and abroad
- supporting solicitors by helping them develop their expertise and their business, respective of whether they work for themselves, in-house or for a law firm

The Law Society represents the profession by:

- campaigning on the rule of law, human rights, access to justice and regulation. This includes lobbying in Brussels, Westminster and Cardiff and in the media.
- working with international legal bodies to position the Law Society as a thought-leader on global issues
- intervening in cases where solicitors and the law are under threat in the UK and abroad
- helping our members to represent key issues impacting the profession to their MP, AM or MEP
- using the law to challenge changes which will impact negatively on the profession and society
- championing and facilitating pro bono work

The Law Society promotes the profession by:

- internationally working to open and grow markets for English and Welsh law such as inward visits of foreign lawyers and trade missions
- providing and increasing awareness of Find a Solicitor – our website enabling consumers and businesses to find a solicitor who can meet their needs
- hosting our annual Excellence Awards which highlight and celebrate outstanding contributions across the profession
- recognising the contribution solicitors make to civil society and communities
- publicising the value of legal of the legal services to the UK economy

The Law Society supports the profession by:

- identifying issues and market trends affecting solicitors to help the prepare for the future
- developing a comprehensive and cohesive education and training offer
- providing practice notes and guidance on issues important to members
- giving advice through our library and help lines
- running accreditation schemes to support and demonstrate effective practice
- creating communities of members based on who you are and what you do
- supporting those who find it difficult to enter the profession through our Diversity Access Scheme
- offering consultancy services for members who want more detailed help
- assisting members who wish to practice abroad

How the Law Society works

Solicitors pay their annual practising certificate fee to the Solicitors Regulation Authority. The Law Society receives around 30 per cent of this fee to support, represent and promote the profession. Other funding comes from commercial activities.

The Law Society Council governs the Law Society's work. Council members are elected to represent members from England and Wales, different demographic groups and parts of the profession. The Law Society harness the knowledge of the Council members and around 300 volunteers to deliver the advice, support and service members want. The Council has 100 seats, 61 for geographical constituencies and 39 for special interest groups and areas of practice.
